

West Front Pushed Closer To Rhine

TWO COUNTAINS
ARE WOUNDED
ON WAR FRONTS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)— Allied armies already plunging toward the heart of Germany massed men and materials for even more powerful offensives today in accord with a Big-Three master plan to hasten the end of the war and the beginning of a secure peace.
The pattern of the peace—the Dumbarton Oaks proposal for a new league—is to be laid before a United Nations conference to be called at San Francisco April 25.
Those are the over-all results of President Roosevelt's eight-day meeting at an old Czarist palace in the Crimea with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.
Hope for World
By their own word it offers the world renewed hope, after Germany's unconditional surrender, for generations of international security in which men "may live out their lives in freedom from want and fear."
The dark curtains of secrecy were drawn from the conference late yesterday. This revealed that the Big Three had agreed not only on mighty new blows to crush Nazism and permanently disarm Germany, but also on several pieces of specific peace machinery to guarantee independence and self-determination to the small countries of Europe.
A formula for creating a new government in Poland, which will be acceptable to all three powers, is included.
The three leaders apparently compromised the split between the United States and Russia over the voting rights of great powers in the proposed Dumbarton Oaks security plan. This cleared the way for the United Nations conference and they decided to call it for San Francisco on April 25. That is the date by which Russia must denounce her non-aggression treaty with Japan if it is not to run for another five years.
Hailed At Capital
Diplomatic officials here discounted the significance of this fact, terming it a coincidence. But it raised all over again speculation that Stalin had now declared to Roosevelt and Churchill an intention to enter the war in Asia when military conditions in Europe permit.
The Big Three announcement, covering nine major points, was hailed at the capitol by both Republicans and Democrats.
It commits the United States to a new and active role in the settlement of European political affairs—a new departure in American foreign policy. To consider these problems as they arise British, Russian and American foreign secretaries are to meet every three or four months, beginning after the San Francisco conference.
Growth of France
The Crimean agreement pledges the greatest alliance of military and political power in history to support the ideal of a peace based on the Atlantic Charter, which thereby appears to take on new life.
But it provides also for the growth of France as a fourth great power in Europe and recognizes, through the agreement on Dumbarton Oaks, the potential power of China in the Orient.
The announcement was released at 4:30 p. m., eastern war time yesterday. The three leaders concluded it by saying that victory plus creation of the proposed peace security organization will provide "the greatest opportunity in all history" for a lasting peace in which "all men in all lands may live out their lives in freedom from fear and want."
The decisions which were reported fall into three main categories and may be summed up thus:
Defeating and Pacifying Germany
Military plans — British, American and Russian high commands sat down together for the first time and planned in detail "the timing, scope and coordination of new and even more powerful blows" to crush the enemy. The staffs will continue to meet when necessary.
Occupation and control — France was asked to make a fourth power in the control of post-war Germany with the promise that the country would be split into four occupational zones, instead of three, and ruled by a control commission of the four supreme commanders in Berlin.
Reparations — A commission will be established at Moscow to study reparations "in kind" by Germany to the Allied countries.
Bringing Order Out of Chaos
General policy — Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin agreed — and expressed the hope that France would join them — on a plan for jointly helping the liberated and former satellite peoples of Europe to regain full political independence with a guarantee of free, secret elections as soon as possible. They said they would help establish internal peace in disturbed countries, relieve distress, form interim governments pending elections and favor the peace of the world.

Canadians Encounter
Trebled Resistance;
Third Mops Up Pruem

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, Feb. 13 (AP)—Canadians driving through the ruins of Kleve advanced today to within 20 miles of the Ruhr city of Wesel and within two miles of the Rhine industrial center of Emmerich against resistance suddenly trebled by the commitment of seven crack Nazi divisions.
In the center, the American Third Army mopped up the road center of Pruem, whose capture placed Lt. Gen. George
S. Patton's men within 45 miles of the Rhine city of Coblenz.
The loss of Pruem and its arterial highways to Coblenz;
Cologne, 53 miles northeast; and Saarbruecken, 72 miles south, weakened the whole German defense system in the Eifel mountains where ten miles have been gashed from the Siegfried line.
Continuing floods on the Roer river kept the American First and Ninth and the British Second Armies quiet along the crucial 50-mile sector where the Germans trumpeted repeatedly that Gen. Eisenhower was massing men and tanks for an offensive to the Rhine.
Luxembourg Cleared
Already 78 combat divisions composed of more than a million troops have been identified on the western front. Of these, 52 are American divisions.
The last of Luxembourg was cleared with the capture of Vianden by the Third Army, giving Gen.
Eisenhower a continuous 145-mile front inside Germany from Karken to near Saarbruecken.
The Canadians, British and Scots
powering Field Marshal Montgomery's offensive in the north had plunged clear through the formidable Reichswald's thick masses of fir trees to the eastern edge. Weather was foul. Rains and inundations from the Rhine tended to slow the pace of Montgomery's divisions rolling up the Germans west of the Rhine.
The Canadians drove to Griet-hausen, less than a mile from the Rhine and two from Emmerich.
Prisoners passed 5,000; enemy dead were piling up fast on the waterlogged battlefield. The Germans for the first time committed tanks.
A battle dispatch from the Kleve front said the Germans had tripled their defense forces in that area and now were employing seven crack divisions.
The Germans counterattacked all the way from Kleve to south of the Reichswald and suffered heavy casualties, but failed to stop the slow but steady advances of the Allies.
Mile after mile of the northern front was under water.
At the opposite end of Gen. Eisenhower's lines, the Germans fought back into a factory stronghold in Oberhofen near the Rhine 15 miles north of the Aislaian capital of Strasbourg.
Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First
Army front 115 miles south of Kleve was static along the flooded Roer and at the dams on the headwaters.
The Americans reached the last two dams, the Heimbach and Ober Maubach on the Roer headwaters.

Reds Smash
Bober Line;
Nazis Quit
Budapest

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
London, Feb. 13 (AP)—Russian troops smashing the Ger-man's Bober river line have sliced to within 70 miles of Dresden, and farther north are hammering toward Sommerfeld, only 17 miles from a junction with Marshal Gregory Zhukov's army fighting before Berlin.
German broadcasts declared today.
The Berlin radio also announced evacuation of Budapest, ruined Hungarian capital far to the southeast.
A DNB broadcast said troops of Marshal Ivan Konev south of Sagan on the Bober river were beating toward Sommerfeld, 17 miles below the Oder river's southern bank where Khukov's First White Russian Army is fighting. Sommerfeld is 70 miles southeast of Berlin.
The German high command communicated Konev's troops farther south had burst over the Bober and reached the Quers river sector, five to 10 miles beyond.
Nazis Claim Escape
The German communiqué made no mention of Budapest, but Berlin broadcasts said the decimated garrison had evacuated the Danube city by a dawn attack intended to break the strong Soviet siege lines.
The German broadcast said the garrison compressed into a small zone inside the encircled city of 1,217,000, "successfully broke out of Budapest to continue the fight in the open field."
But so powerful and complete was the Russian encirclement that it appeared doubtful here the German remnants and their Hungarian satellites could have fought to safety.
Flanking Threat
Bunzlau, a 12-way road hub on the east bank of the stream 74 miles northeast of Dresden, was captured yesterday at the climax of a swift 15-mile drive. Giessmannsdorf, 15 miles to the north, also fell.
Moscow announcements contained no hint that the Germans had massed strength sufficient even to delay Konev at the Bober. Some 25 miles ahead, however, lies the Niesse river, by some reports almost as strongly fortified as the Oder. The Niesse, like the Bober, is a tributary of the Oder.
An even greater flanking threat to Berlin than this thrust toward Dresden was a column that the Germans declared Marshal Konev had sent into the Naumburg district, 40 miles northwest of fallen Bunzlau and 76 miles southeast of the German capital.

Liquidating
Trapped Japs

Manila, Feb. 13 (AP)—Japanese suicide troops, cornered in South Manila's flaming battle pit by a junior of three American divisions, were being compressed and liquidated today as their only possible havens of refuge, Corregidor and Bataan, smoldered from a record 1,000-ton saturation bombing.
The final phase of the battle for the Philippine capital was mounting in ferocity as Yanks of the 37th infantry, first cavalry and 11th airborne divisions made contact to pin
the Japanese against Manila bay south of the Pasig river mouth.
While six division armored units far to the north rolled to the Pacific coast to cut Luzon in two, the three Yank divisions in Manila's shell-wrecked downtown area braved rockets, heavy artillery, machine-gun fire and mined streets in their drive to finish off the enemy garrison now confined to less than five square miles.
Across Manila bay, American bombers poured a devastating load of more than 700 tons of bombs on the southern end of Bataan peninsula and over 200 tons on Corregi-dor fortress in a 48-hour period up to Sunday night.

"LINCOLN, THE AVERAGE MAN" IS DESCRIBED

Abraham Lincoln as an average man—who didn't stay average—was presented to the members of the Gettysburg Rotary, Lions and Soroptimist clubs Monday evening in a Lincoln's birthday address by T.
Russ Hill, president of the Rex-Air Corporation of Detroit and the Martin-Perry Corporation of York, at the Battlefield hotel. One hundred club members and guests attended.
"Lincoln was an indigent father,
a hen-pecked husband, a shrewd politician and an average religionist, most of whose victories were stalked by great sorrows," Mr. Hill asserted.
"He was an average plodder with patience and that characteristic probably was more significant than any other phase of his makeup with the exception of his above-average honesty."
Speaking first of the need for present-day America to learn Lincoln's faculty for getting rid of difficult questions by the easy way—through anecdotes, he cited Lincoln stories told at Douglas debates and in election night tension.
Need Lincoln's Vision
Mr. Hill described the humble circumstances in which Lincoln was born 136 years ago in Hardin county,
Ky., and then pointed to the Lincoln Memorial at Washington as a sign of the great span covered by the life of the Great Emancipator. He emphasized the "averageness" of Lincoln as he struggled from an obscure Kentucky cabin to the White House and immortality.
Pointing to Lincoln's business failures and to the fact that until he was 50, he had attained only two major successes in his life—election

RED CROSS AIDS
ILL VETERAN

The local chapter of the American Red Cross was completing arrangements today to assist Bernard Huff, World War I veteran, who was found early Sunday morning at the Warner hospital, return to his home in Tyrone.
Huff was discovered in the dispensary of the hospital early Sunday morning by the superintendent of nurses as she made an inspection trip. Huff complained of severe abdominal and other pains and was admitted to the hospital for treatment.
State police from the local substation, who investigated, said today that Huff apparently was suffering from temporary amnesia. He said he left his work in the Altoona railroad yards last Thursday and remembered nothing further until he was treated at the hospital. The veteran was suffering from extreme exhaustion, police said.
Arrangements were made Monday to have Huff's sister come to Gettysburg to accompany him home, but she was unable to make the trip. The Red Cross was called in on the case this morning.

Orttanna Sailor
Held As Disorderly

A young Orttanna sailor was a prisoner in the county jail today on a disorderly conduct charge after being arrested Monday evening at the Phi Mu sorority house, formerly the Sigma Chi fraternity house, 240 Carlisle street.
The lad, Richard E. Cullison, 19, was arrested by Borough Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr., and an officer from the local substation of the state police, after he had entered the sorority house and caused a disturbance, according to the police.
Cullison was committed to the county jail for a hearing, the time for which has not been set. The warrant for his arrest was issued by Justice of the Peace John H.
Basehore.

SCHOOL BOARD
GIVES CONTRACT
TO JACK CESSNA

Members of the Gettysburg school board at their February meeting Monday evening formally accepted the resignation of Mrs. Mildred Shue Bower as a first grade teacher at the Meade school building and placed John Paul (Jack) Cessna under a permanent contract as a member of the high school faculty.
Cessna has been teaching pre-flight work and physics at the high school under a temporary professional employees rating. He now will be employed as a permanent member of the teaching staff. Mrs. Bower's resignation was effective February 1, and a substitute, Mrs. Helen Conover Harrow, has been secured for her place.
The directors discussed the action of the two high school boys who shot two .22-caliber rifle bullets through the windows of a third-floor school room at the high school last month, and it was decided to let the juvenile court take action after the boys have paid for the damage. The directors condemned the "shooting around town" and several urged that the borough officials and local court take action "before someone is killed."
Inspect Schoolroom
Following the meeting the directors made an inspection of the room which the bullets entered. It is the class-room of Mrs. Sara Black Gidson, who was standing near one of the blackboards when one of the bullets struck. Damage was caused by the slugs going through two different window panes and entering a section of blackboard and piercing a picture and lodging in the wall, respectively.
Prot L C Keefauver, superintendent.

"LINCOLN, THE AVERAGE MAN" IS DESCRIBED

Abraham Lincoln as an average man—who didn't stay average—was presented to the members of the Gettysburg Rotary, Lions and Soroptimist clubs Monday evening in a Lincoln's birthday address by T. Russ Hill, president of the Rex-Air Corporation of Detroit and the Martin-Perry Corporation of York, at the Battleford hotel. One hundred club members and guests attended.

"Lincoln was an indulgent father, a hen-pecked husband, a shrewd politician and an average religionist, most of whose victories were stalked by great sorrows," Mr. Hill asserted. "He was an average plodder with patience and that characteristic probably was more significant than any other phase of his makeup with the exception of his above-average honesty."

Speaking first of the need for present-day America to learn Lincoln's faculty for getting rid of difficult questions by the easy way—through anecdotes, he cited Lincoln stories told at Douglas debates and in election night tension.

Need Lincoln's Vision
Mr. Hill described the humble circumstances in which Lincoln was born 136 years ago in Hardin county, Ky., and then pointed to the Lincoln Memorial at Washington as a sign of the great span covered by the life of the Great Emancipator. He emphasized the "averageness" of Lincoln as he struggled from an obscure Kentucky cabin to the White House and immortality.

Pointing to Lincoln's business failures and to the fact that until he was 50, he had attained only two major successes in his life—election (Please Turn to Page 3)

Canadians Encounter Trebled Resistance; Third Mops Up Pruem

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, Feb. 13 (AP)—Canadians driving through the ruins of Kleve advanced today to within 20 miles of the Ruhr city of Wesel and within two miles of the Rhine industrial center of Emmerich against resistance suddenly trebled by the commitment of seven crack Nazi divisions.

In the center, the American Third Army mopped up the road center of Pruem, whose capture placed Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's men within 45 miles of the Rhine city of Coblenz.

The loss of Pruem and its arterial highways to Coblenz; Cologne, 53 miles northeast; and Saarbruecken, 72 miles south, weakened the whole German defense system in the Eifel mountains where ten miles have been gashed from the Siegfried line.

Reds Smash Bober Line; Nazis Quit Budapest

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
London, Feb. 13 (AP)—Russian troops smashing the German Bober river line have sliced to within 70 miles of Dresden, and farther north are hammering toward Sommerfeld, only 17 miles from a junction with Marshal Gregory Zhukov's army fighting before Berlin, German broadcasts declared today.

The Berlin radio also announced evacuation of Budapest, ruined Hungarian capital far to the southeast.

A DNB broadcast said troops of Marshal Ivan Konev south of Sagan on the Bober river were beating toward Sommerfeld, 17 miles below the Oder river's southern bank where Khukov's First White Russian Army is fighting. Sommerfeld is 70 miles southeast of Berlin.

The German high command communique said Konev's troops farther south had burst over the Bober and reached the Quels river sector, five to 10 miles beyond.

Nazis Claim Escape
The German communique made no mention of Budapest, but Berlin broadcasts said the decimated garrison had evacuated the Danube city by a dawn attack intended to break the strong Soviet siege lines.

The German broadcast said the garrison compressed into a small zone inside the encircled city of 1,217,000, "successfully broke out of Budapest to continue the fight in the open field."

But so powerful and complete was the Russian encirclement that it appeared doubtful here the German remnants and their Hungarian satellites could have fought to safety.

Flanking Threat
Bunzlau, a 12-way road hub on the east bank of the stream 74 miles northeast of Dresden, was captured yesterday at the climax of a swift 15-mile drive. Giessmannsdorf, 15 miles to the north, also fell.

Moscow announcements contained no hint that the Germans had massed strength sufficient even to delay Konev at the Bober. Some 25 miles ahead, however, lies the Niesse river, by some reports almost as strongly fortified as the Oder. The Niesse, like the Bober, is a tributary of the Oder.

An even greater flanking threat to Berlin than this thrust toward Dresden was a column that the Germans declared Marshal Konev had sent into the Naumburg district, 40 miles northwest of fallen Bunzlau and 76 miles southeast of the German capital.

ARMY PROMOTION
Sgt. Hobart E. Sterner, 23, husband of Mrs. Frances L. Sterner, of Gettysburg, has been promoted to the rank of staff sergeant. He is with the 99th Infantry Division in Belgium. Prior to entering service he was employed at Rice, Trew and Rice, Biglerville.

TO NAME OFFICERS
The annual election of officers of the Adams County Society for Crippled children will take place at the regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Hotel Eberhart.

Liquidating Trapped Japs

Manila, Feb. 13 (AP)—Japanese suicide troops, cornered in South Manila's flaming battle pit by a juncture of three American divisions, were being compressed and liquidated today as their only possible haven of refuge, Corregidor and Bataan, smoldered from a record 1,000-ton saturation bombing.

The final phase of the battle for the Philippine capital was mounting in ferocity as Yanks of the 37th infantry, first cavalry and 11th airborne divisions made contact to pin the Japanese against Manila bay south of the Pasig river mouth.

While six division armored units far to the north rolled to the Pacific coast to cut Luzon in two, the three Yank divisions in Manila's shell-wrecked downtown area braved rockets, heavy artillery, machine-gun fire and mined streets in their drive to finish off the enemy garrison now confined to less than five square miles.

Across Manila bay, American bombers poured a devastating load of more than 700 tons of bombs on the southern end of Bataan peninsula and over 200 tons on Corregidor fortress in a 48-hour period up to Sunday night.

VAST PROBLEMS FACED BIG 3 AT CRUCIAL PARLEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

The undertaking reached by the Big Three—Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin—in the brief eight days of their Crimean parley represents the greatest task ever essayed by man—bringing the European war to a successful conclusion, rehabilitating a stricken Europe under the Atlantic Charter, and establishing permanent peace.

The immediate and outstanding impressions which I get from this staggering program are two. The first is wonderment that such a degree of accord should be reached, for now—if ever—is the moment when international suspicions should be riding high and tempers should be on edge. The other is that one can see real hope that success will crown the report.

We saw the peace of the last war fall because too many cooks messed about with the broth. This time supervision of the job is for all practical purposes in the hands of only three—the world's dominant powers. Our hopes rest largely in that fact.

French Recognition
The Big Three are capable of enforcing any program—no matter how vast—upon which they are agreed. That is, they're capable of enforcing it so long as they stand together and pool their mighty influence. This doesn't mean that the ideas and cooperation of all nations aren't essential, for they are, but we are on the verge of an epochal change which demands that we take a practical view of things.

Since the proof of the plum-duff is in the eating, we shall have to wait to see whether their present goodwill is backed by enough horse-sense to make them stand firmly together. We aren't out of the woods yet.

The Big Three seem to be evoking warm approval for their recognition of France's position as a major ally. She is being invited to take over one zone of occupation in Germany (the chances are that it will be the Rhine-land west of the river) and put a member on the control commission with America, Russia and Britain.

Appeal to German People
One notes, however, that there's no sign of enlarging the Big Three into the Big Four for Europe. That's understandable, for poor France is so broken that she isn't yet prepared to resume her place as a world power. She will climb back to that exalted position through the rebirth which she now is undergoing under the leadership of General de Gaulle.

At this moment De Gaulle can't say, France can't say, and the outside world can't say just what evolution our old and valued ally will pass through to restore her position. Certainly great spiritual, political and economical changes are in the making.

The Crimean report gives us a partial answer to the question of whether the Big Three intend to call on the German people to quit Hitler. The conferees would seem in effect to do exactly that through their statement.

Polish Agreement
This lays down the law to the Germans—but gives them hope. "Naz Germany is doomed," but "it is not our purpose to destroy the people of Germany." There will be a "decent life" and "a place for them in the comity of nations" when "Nazism and militarism have been extirpated." But they "will only make the cost of their defeat heavier for themselves by attempting to continue a hopeless resistance."

The explosive Polish question naturally figured in the discussions. The most important result achieved would seem to be that the three were able to agree on a procedure to be followed in settling the highly controversial governmental and frontier problems. Time alone will tell whether there will be any change from the program already laid out by the present Polish provisional government. That regime now is reconstructing the war-torn country. And one would expect the ultimate plebiscite to ratify what's being done.

COUNTDOWN WITH TRUCK COMPANY

With U. S. Forces in Belgium (By Mail)—The 426th Quartermaster Truck company, now engaged at an important Belgian port getting war materials to combat troops pushing into Germany, has packed a lot of experience into its three-month life.

Nowadays it doesn't have the long hard pull that it had when it was part of the "Red Ball Express," carrying ammunition and gasoline from Normandy's Omaha beach to the American First and Third armies in the field, often under enemy fire. The supply line is shorter now. Formed in September, the company drew its personnel from replacement depots. Thus many of its men had been in combat outfits—infantry, artillery, tank destroyers, combat engineers—and battle decorations were the rule.

Pvt. Raymond D. Ketterman, Gettysburg, R. 2, is a member of the truck company.

REHABILITATION BACKED IN NEW ASSEMBLY BILL

Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—The General Assembly today sent Governor Martin legislation carrying out the first major administration proposal aimed at postwar rehabilitation.

Senate concurrence in minor amendments completed action on a bill to aid returning veterans and to help small business reconvert to peacetime production.

Sponsored by Senator Clarence D. Becker (R-Lebanon), the measure broadens state banking laws to assist servicemen in buying homes or farms or going into business.

Relax Loan Laws
Authorization is given for loans to servicemen up to $10,000 without down payments when guaranteed in part by the veterans administration under the federal GI Bill of Rights.

State banks under present law may make loans up to two-thirds of the appraised value of real estate while Building and Loan associations are limited to 80 per cent.

Cushioning reconversion of small business, the bill exempts government-guaranteed loans from a restriction prohibiting banks from making loans for more than 10 per cent of a company's capital and surplus.

In the House, introduction of a proposed formula for distributing the one-cent emergency gasoline tax to local government for highway work started efforts to settle differences of Republicans over permanent enactment of the levy.

Tax Benefits
A bill worked out by the Assembly's joint state government (research) commission would give cities, boroughs and first class townships three-tenths of the $22,500,000 revenues in 1945-47, second class townships a similar amount with four-tenths going to the Highway department.

The money would be distributed on a mileage basis with the aim of benefiting small communities, said Rep. Baker Royer (R-Lancaster), a member of the commission's tax committee and joint sponsor of the bill.

House passage sent to the Senate a $2,442,000 appropriation to complete payments on a cost-of-living bonus for school teachers during the current biennium. Similar action was taken on a measure to exempt property of institutions of learning, benevolence and charity from taxes.

TORNADO TAKES TOLL IN SOUTH

(By The Associated Press)

Tornadoes swirling over Mississippi and Alabama late yesterday took a toll of at least 42 dead, 200 injured, and property damage running into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Worst hit was a crescent shaped area on the southern and western outskirts of Montgomery, Ala., where more than 50 boxcars of a freight were ripped and tossed about like match boxes.

Montgomery alone counted its dead at 25, and its injured at more than 100. Two government warehouses were leveled and in Chisholm, a cotton mill community, 35 homes were demolished and many others damaged in a 20-block area.

Nine were known dead at Livingston, 125 miles west of Montgomery, and one at York, nine miles from Livingston. At Livingston, as at Montgomery, a freight train was tossed about and one of the Livingston dead was a trainman.

The storm first hit Meridian, Miss., leaving a path of destruction as it cut about the city on two sides, before turning eastward into Alabama. The dead in the Meridian area were placed unofficially at seven. More than 50 persons were injured there.

STETTINIUS IN MOSCOW TODAY

Moscow, Feb. 13 (AP)—Announcement of momentous decisions reached by the "Big Three" were given added significance for the Russian people today with the presence of U. S. Secretary of State Stettinius in Moscow on a brief official visit.

Fresh from the historic conference in the Crimea, Stettinius stepped off a plane at the Moscow airport late yesterday as the capital still buzzed with news of the doings of Premier Stalin, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

In one of the first editorial comments in the Soviet press on the conference, the Communist party organ Pravda declared: "The Crimean conference has proved that the alliance of the three big powers possesses not only a historical yesterday, a victorious today, but also a great tomorrow. The conference will go down in history as an example of real democratic cooperation."

A communique said that Stettinius, who was accompanied by U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, had come to Moscow at the invitation of Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov and would stay several days. His visit was taken as new evidence of the ties binding Russia to her allies.

VAST PROBLEMS FACED BIG 3 AT CRUCIAL PARLEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

The undertaking reached by the Big Three—Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin—in the brief eight days of their Crimean parley represents the greatest task ever essayed by man—bringing the European war to a successful conclusion, rehabilitating a stricken Europe under the Atlantic Charter, and establishing permanent peace.

The immediate and outstanding impressions which I get from this staggering program are two. The first is wonderment that such a degree of accord should be reached, for now—if ever—is the moment when international suspicions should be riding high and tempers should be on edge. The other is that one can see real hope that success will crown the report.

We saw the peace of the last war fail because too many cooks messed about with the broth. This time supervision of the job is for all practical purposes in the hands of only three—the world's dominant powers. Our hopes rest largely in that fact.

French Recognition

The Big Three are capable of enforcing any program—no matter how vast—upon which they are agreed. That is, they're capable of enforcing it so long as they stand together and pool their mighty influence. This doesn't mean that the ideas and cooperation of all nations aren't essential, for they are, but we are on the verge of an epochal change which demands that we take a practical view of things.

Since the proof of the plumb-duff is in the eating, we shall have to wait to see whether their present goodwill is backed by enough horse-sense to make them stand firmly together. We aren't out of the woods yet.

The Big Three seem to be evoking warm approval for their recognition of France's position as a major ally. She is being invited to take over one zone of occupation in Germany (the chances are that it will be the Rhineland west of the river) and put a member on the control commission with America, Russia and Britain.

One notes, however, that there's no sign of enlarging the Big Three into the Big Four for Europe. That's understandable, for poor France is so broken that she isn't yet prepared to resume her place as a world power. She will climb back to that exalted position through the rebirth which she now is undergoing under the leadership of General de Gaulle.

At this moment De Gaulle can't say, France can't say, and the outside world can't say just what evolution our old and valued ally will pass through to restore her position. Certainly great spiritual, political and economical changes are in the making.

The Crimean report gives us a partial answer to the question of whether the Big Three intend to call on the German people to quit Hitler. The conferees would seem in effect to do exactly that through their statement.

Polish Agreement

This lays down the law to the Germans—but gives them hope. "Nazi Germany is doomed," but "it is not our purpose to destroy the people of Germany." There will be a "decent life" and "a place for them in the comity of nations" when "Nazism and militarism have been extirpated." But they "will only make the cost of their defeat heavier for themselves by attempting to continue a hopeless resistance."

The explosive Polish question naturally figured in the discussions. The most important result achieved would seem to be that the "three were able to agree on a procedure to be followed in settling the highly controversial governmental and frontier problems. Time alone will tell whether there will be any change from the program already laid out by the present Polish provisional government. That regime now is reconstructing the war-torn country. And one would expect the ultimate plebiscite to ratify what's being done.

COUNTDOWN WITH TRUCK COMPANY

With U. S. Forces in Belgium (By Mail)—The 4256th Quartermaster Truck company, now engaged at an important Belgian port getting war materials to combat troops pushing into Germany, has packed a lot of experience into its three-month life.

Nowadays it doesn't have the long hard pulls that it had when it was part of the "Red Ball Express," carrying ammunition and gasoline from Normandy's Omaha beach to the American First and Third armies in the field, often under enemy fire. The supply line is shorter now.

Formed in September, the company drew its personnel from replacement depots. Thus many of its men had been in combat outfits—infantry, artillery, tank destroyers, combat engineers—and battle conditions were the rule.

Pvt. Raymond D. Ketterman, Gettysburg R. 2, is a member of the truck company.

There were no registrants for courses in educational measurements and recent world history, but Professor Wolfe said they will be offered if sufficient teachers enroll Wednesday evening for either one or both.

REHABILITATION BACKED IN NEW ASSEMBLY BILL

Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—The General Assembly today sent Governor Martin legislation carrying out the first major administration proposal aimed at postwar rehabilitation.

Senate concurrence in minor amendments completed action on a bill to aid returning veterans and to help small business reconvert to peacetime production.

Sponsored by Senator Clarence D. Becker (R-Lebanon), the measure broadens state banking laws to assist servicemen in buying homes or farms or going into business.

Relax Loan Laws

Authorization is given for loans to servicemen up to $10,000 without down payments when guaranteed in part by the veterans administration under the federal GI Bill of Rights. State banks under present law may make loans up to two-thirds of the appraised value of real estate while Building and Loan associations are limited to 80 per cent.

Cushioning reconversion of small business, the bill exempts government-guaranteed loans from a restriction prohibiting banks from making loans for more than 10 per cent of a company's capital and surplus.

In the House, introduction of a proposed formula for distributing the one-cent emergency gasoline tax to local government for highway work started efforts to settle differences of Republicans over permanent enactment of the levy.

Tax Benefits

A bill worked out by the Assembly's joint state government (research) commission would give cities, boroughs and first class townships three-tenths of the $22,500,000 revenues in 1945-47, second class townships a similar amount with four-tenths going to the Highway department.

The money would be distributed on a mileage basis with the aim of benefiting small communities, said Rep. Baker Royer (R-Lancaster) a member of the commission's tax committee and joint sponsor of the bill.

House passage sent to the Senate a $2,442,000 appropriation to complete payments on a cost-of-living bonus for school teachers during the current biennium. Similar action was taken on a measure to exempt property of institutions of learning, benevolence and charity from taxes.

MERVILLE ZINN ENJOYS LUXURY OF NAZI HOME

In a letter written January 15 from somewhere in Germany to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Zinn, Hanover street, Sgt. Merville Zinn describes the fine care he and a soldier buddy received from a well-to-do German family the previous week.

Sgt. Zinn and his friend became acquainted with the German family when they were sent by their captain to repair a water heater at the family's home.

Quoting from the letter, "The grandfather practically owns the town we are in. The house they live in contains 11 huge rooms. One room down stairs is like a ballroom with hardwood floors and beautiful chandeliers.

"The mother's husband is a Colonel in the German army and a doctor. She had two children, a son, 23, who was killed as a flier shortly after the war started, and daughter 22. The daughter is married to a German soldier and has a seven-month-old son her husband knows nothing about. He was fighting in Italy and she hasn't heard from him for two months. She hopes he is a prisoner of war. She speaks perfect English plus German, French and Italian.

Enjoy Real Bath
"I asked the mother why she was so good to American soldiers and she said all soldiers were alike. She thinks they fight for a principle and not against people or because they want to. She also said she wanted to think her son was treated in a similar manner when he was in a strange country."

Sgt. Zinn described how, after the heater was fixed, he and his buddy took baths which "words just can't describe the sensation of a bath like that after two years."

The soldiers spent the night at the home and were well fed on choice foods. They were told if they had any special likings in the eating line to name it and they would be given it for supper the following night. Sgt. Zinn wrote "I asked her if she would make me a hot apple pie with milk and she said it didn't sound very good but I insisted and so she said I got her flour, lard and baking soda she would make it. I told her how you (Mrs. Zinn) used to make them and she thought it was wonderful I could make a pie. It wasn't exactly like you make but it was delicious."

Sgt. Zinn revealed he was near the area when the Germans made their break-through late in December.

"We are exceptionally lucky because the night we moved Jerry was bombing and strafing the roads and throwing out flares but we never were close. The boys that went over the same route next day said there were a lot of bomb craters but that was after we had passed by."

"I did have a scare though, we pulled into our bivouac and I was on top of the truck unrolling my camouflage net when I heard a plane coming. It seemed in level flight and I stood up to listen. It seemed to be directly over my head when I saw a flash and I involuntarily ducked and a bomb exploded and the concussion all but blew me off the top. I was weak for ten minutes and almost sick. The bomb didn't scare me but hanging over the edge of the truck in pitch darkness and just catching myself by a thread took all the starch out of me. There wasn't much sleep that night because every time I got asleep I was awakened with machine gun fire from a plane strafing the road. We were off the road but I think it's safer to be the target than the innocent bystander."

In Belgium (AP)—Hare-hunting First Sgt. Elden J. Harm, of the 104th Timber Wolf Division, found a North African bow and arrow abandoned in a German position by some Nazi souvenir collector. With it Harm has furnished plenty of "hassenpfeffer" for his mess table and also sports a genuine rabbit fur collar on his G.I. jacket.

"I'm going to use the rest of my arrows to put tail fins on retreat-ing Jerries," says the sergeant.

When he is working on a stubborn jeep T-5 Thomas Padgett, of Bostic, N. C., a motor mechanic, likes to be left alone. He got mad when six ME-109s began strafing a motor park where he was tinkering.

Although he never had fired a machine gun, he ran to a weapon carrier and began spraying .50-cal. bullets at the Jerry planes.

Five were driven off—and the sixth surprised everybody by crashing in flames. Padgett went back to work on his jeep.

Dividends In Prisoners
The Eighth Infantry Division boys say their battle specialty is making "Kraut hash" but one kitchen artist has concocted a new delicacy. "You take a fruit bar and D ration chocolate and pare them together in thin chips," said Pfc. Howard T. Kess, of Dyer, Tenn. "Add some water and boil. While mixture is boiling, keep stirring until thick. Allow to blend and to cool—and you've got a delicious fruit pudding that will melt in your mouth."

Doughboys of the "Golden Arrow" Division are still kidding Sgt. "Doggie" Carnto, of Dublin, Ga., who had just removed his shoes to dry his wet feet when an ME-109 swept over at low level, strafing the area. Every doughboy ran for foxholes with Carnto hobbling last in his socks. When he reached his foxhole it was crowded with soldiers and he had to stand kneedeep in mud sweating out the Jerry tracers.

A hometown bond between S-Sgt. John J. Petlik, of Pamona, N. Y., and a Polish-born medic-captured with several German prisoners paid dividends. Talking to the medic, Petlik learned that both were born in the same village in Poland. They went into a huddle talking over old times and it ended with the Pole going out and calling in several more of his buddies to surrender. Then he asked if he could serve with the American Army taking care of the wounded.

If Pfc. Albert H. Reef had opened a "C" ration can and found a squirming lobster inside, he couldn't have been more surprised than when the mail orderly brought him a Christmas present—one naked coconut.

"I knew this screwy thing was for you the minute I set eyes on it," said the mail orderly. "Nuts to you, too," replied Reef, inspecting his outsize gift. It had been mailed to him from Hawaii by an old friend, Fireman First Class Harry Zimmerman, who used to live around the corner from Reef's home, Philadelphia.

"We once brought a second-hand car for four dollars and traveled 4,000 miles in it," said Reef, hefting the coconut. "Either that or we paid $4,000 for it and traveled four miles—I forget which." He is adding the coconut to a souvenir collection already so extensive his buddies think he ought to open a war museum.

CAPTIVE AGE IS HONORED

Old City, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—"We wish he were here with us."

These words, uttered ironically by the father of Lt. Col. Francis E. Gabreski in accepting the Distinguished Service Cross and other awards in behalf of his hero son, echoed and re-echoed in the ears of Old City last night.

The night would have been complete if the 26-year-old ace, instead of languishing in a German prison camp, had been present to accept the plaudits of his townspeople who crowded into the tiny high school auditorium and heard Brig. Gen. John M. Clark say:

"Because of his superior judgment and leadership, Col. Gabreski holds one of the highest niches in the halls of the Army Air Forces."

And his father reply:

"I'm happy to accept these medals. Thank you."

Gen. Clark, commanding the Middle-town, (Pa.), Air Technical Command, read the citations lauding the ace's "skill and intrepidity" in shooting down 28 Nazi planes in aerial combat and destroying three on the ground.

Bell Urges More Liberal GOP Policy

Eulogizing Abraham Lincoln at a dinner last night, Bell declared: "If we, the Republican party, really want to regain our leadership in Pennsylvania and throughout the nation, wouldn't it be wise to emulate the traits and to follow the philosophy and the policies which made Abraham Lincoln immortal?"

"This means that we will have to support for high public office and for leadership in our party, able, outstanding men who will place principle above expediency and country above person and party."

Would Require Pre-Operative Physical Exam At Hospitals

Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—Tommy, 8-year-old son of State Senator John J. Haluska, died on a hospital operating table last fall.

Last night Senator Haluska, himself a hospital superintendent, introduced a bill compelling surgeons to make a careful pre-operative physical checkup of all surgery patients, except in emergencies.

"My son had a birthmark on the back of his neck," Haluska said in a dramatic speech on the Senate floor. "I consulted an eminent surgeon, who advised me that it could be removed without the slightest danger."

"Of course I am, Tommy," I said. "Would require Exam."

"Well, if you are," said the boy, "you will never let them do this to me. If you let them do this, I am going to die."

"The doctor scoffed x x x, and took him by the hand and led him from the room. My son was saying the Lord's Prayer as he walked down the hallway. Twenty-two minutes later he was dead."

The Senator, who is superintendent of Miners' Hospital, Spangler, Pa., did not name the hospital or surgeon involved or give the medical explanation of Tommy's death.

His bill would require examinations of heart, blood vessels, lungs and urine except in emergencies, establishing a $1,000 fine or two years imprisonment or both for violation.

School Teachers' Leave
House measures would:

Require school boards to grant teachers as much as 10 full days of sick leave with pay each year and remove physical disability as grounds for dismissal for incompetency. Reps. Robert D. Fleming and George D. Stuart, (both R-Allegheny).

Place all city employees under Civil Service except elected officials and department heads, Anthony J. Petrosky and Charles J. Mills, (both D-Westmoreland).

Eliminate two-week waiting period before payment of Unemployment Compensation benefits start, Theodore Komorowski, (D-Luzerne).

Permit bowling alleys to operate after 2 p. m. on Sunday, John J. Baker, (D-Allegheny), and Thomas J. Heagheirington, (D-Allegheny).

Semi-Monthly Pay
Provide for at least semi-monthly pay periods for all employees except farm and domestic workers, Anthony J. Petrosky, (D-Westmoreland), and Frank J. Cullen, (D-Phila.).

New Senate proposals would:

Permit unions and other unincorporated associations to make contributions to political campaigns, John H. Dent, (D-Westmoreland), Carleton T. Woodring, (D-Northampton), and Wallace S. Gourley, (D-Washington).

Require courts to review the findings and penalties of State Liquor Control Board hearings on revocation of licenses, A. Evans Kephart, (R-Phila.).

MERVILLE ZINN ENJOYS LUXURY OF NAZI HOME

In a letter written January 15 from somewhere in Germany to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Zinn, Hanover street, Sgt. Merville Zinn describes the fine care he and a soldier buddy received from a well-to-do German family the previous week.

Sgt. Zinn and his friend became acquainted with the German family when they were sent by their captain to repair a water heater at the family's home.

Quoting from the letter, "The grandfather practically owns the town we are in. The house they live in contains 11 huge rooms. One room down stairs is like a ballroom with hardwood floors and beautiful chandeliers.

"The mother's husband is a Colonel in the German army and a doctor. She had two children, a son, 23, who was killed as a flier shortly after the war started, and a daughter 22. The daughter is married to a German soldier and has a seven-month-old son. Her husband knows nothing about her. She was fighting in Italy and she hasn't heard from him for two months. She hopes he is a prisoner of war. She speaks perfect English plus German, French and Italian.

Enjoy Real Bath
"I asked the mother why she was so good to American soldiers and she said all soldiers were alike. She thinks they fight for a principle and not against people or because they want to. She also said she wanted to think her son was treated in a similar manner when he was in a strange country."

Sgt. Zinn described how, after the heater was fixed, he and his buddy took baths, which "words just can't describe the sensation of a bath like that after two years."

The soldiers spent the night at the home and were well fed on choice foods. They were told if they had any special likings in the eating line to name it and they would be given it for supper the following night. Sgt. Zinn wrote "I asked her if she would make me a hot apple pie with milk and she said it didn't sound very good but I insisted and so she said if I got her flour, lard and baking soda she would make it. I told her how you (Mrs. Zinn) used to make them and she thought it was wonderful I could make a pie. It wasn't exactly like you make but it was delicious."

Sgt. Zinn revealed he was near the area when the Germans made their break-through late in December.

"We are exceptionally lucky because the night we moved Jerry was bombing and strafing the roads and throwing out flares but we never were close. The boys that went over the same route next day said there were a lot of bomb craters but that was after we had passed by."

"I did have a scare though, we pulled into our bivouac and I was on top of the truck unrolling my camouflage net when I heard a plane coming. It seemed in level flight and I stood up to listen. It seemed to be directly over my head when I saw a flash and I involuntarily ducked and a bomb exploded and the concussion all but blew me off the top. I was weak for ten minutes and almost sick. The bomb didn't scare me but hanging over the edge of the truck in pitch darkness and just catching myself by a thread took all the starch out of me. There wasn't much sleep that night because every time I got asleep I was awakened with machine gun fire from a plane strafing the road. We were off the road but I think it's safer to be the target than the innocent bystander."

"I'm going to use the rest of my arrows to put tail fins on retreating Jerries," says the sergeant.

When he is working on a stubborn jeep T-5 Thomas Padgett, of Bostic, N. C., a motor mechanic, likes to be left alone. He got mad when six ME-109s began strafing a motor park where he was tinkering. Although he never had fired a machine gun, he ran to a weapon carrier and began spraying 50-cal. bullets at the Jerry planes.

Five were driven off—and the sixth surprised everybody by crashing in flames. Padgett went back to work on his jeep.

Dividends In Prisoners
The Eighth Infantry Division boys say their battle specialty is making "Kraut hash" but one kitchen artist has concocted a new delicacy. "You take a fruit bar and D ration chocolate and pare them together in thin chips," said Pfc. Howard T. Kess, of Dyer, Tenn. "Add some water and boil. While mixture is boiling, keep stirring until thick. Allow to blend and to cool—and you've got a delicious fruit pudding that will melt in your mouth."

Doughboys of the "Golden Arrow"
Division are still kidding Sgt. "Doggie" Carno, of Dublin, Ga., who had just removed his shoes to dry his wet feet when an ME-109 swept over at low level, strafing the area. Every doughboy ran for foxholes with Carno hobbling last in his socks. When he reached his foxhole it was crowded with soldiers and he had to stand knee-deep in mud sweating out the Jerry tracers.

A hometown bond between S-Sgt. John J. Petlik, of Patuxent, N. Y., and a Polish-born medic-captured with several German prisoners paid dividends. Talking to the medic, Petlik learned that both were born in the same village in Poland. They went into a huddle talking over old times and it ended with the Pole going out and calling in several more of his buddies to surrender. Then he asked if he could serve with the American Army taking care of the wounded.

If Pfc. Albert H. Reef had opened a "C" ration can and found a squirming lobster inside, he couldn't have been more surprised than when the mail orderly brought him a Christmas present—one naked coconut.

"I knew this screwy thing was for you the minute I set eyes on it," said the mail orderly. "Nuts to you, too," replied Reef, inspecting his outsize lobster. "It had been mailed from Hawaii by an old friend, Fireman First Class Harry Zimmerman, who used to live around the corner from Reef's home, Philadelphia."

"We once brought a second-hand car for four dollars and traveled 4,000 miles in it," said Reef, hefting the coconut. "Either that or we paid $4,000 for it and traveled four miles—I forget which." He is adding the coconut to a souvenir collection already so extensive his buddies think he ought to open a war museum.

CAPTIVE ACE IS HONORED

Oil City, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—"We wish he were here with us."

These words, uttered laconically by the father of Lt. Col. Francis S. Gabreski in accepting the Distinguished Service Cross and other awards in behalf of his hero son, echoed and re-echoed in the ears of Oil City last night.

The night would have been complete if the 26-year-old ace, instead of languishing in a German prison camp, had been present to accept the plaudits of his townspeople who crowded into the tiny high school auditorium and heard Brig. Gen. John M. Clark say:

"Because of his superior judgment and leadership, Col. Gabreski holds one of the highest niches in the halls of the Army Air Forces."

And his father reply:

"I'm happy to accept these medals. Thank you."

Gen. Clark, commanding the Mid-dletown, (Pa.), Air Technical Command, read the citations lauding the ace's "skill and intrepidity" in shooting down 28 Nazi planes in aerial combat and destroying three on the ground.

KILLED AT PLAY

Bell Urges More Liberal GOP Policy

Enlightening Abraham Lincoln at a dinner last night, Bell declared: "If we, the Republican party, really want to regain our leadership in Pennsylvania and throughout the nation, wouldn't it be wise to emulate the traits and to follow the philosophy and the policies which made Abraham Lincoln immortal?"

"This means that we will have to support for high public office and for leadership in our party, able, outstanding men who will place principle above expediency and country above person and party."

to the Legislature and to Congress for one term each—the speaker described Lincoln's simple, plodding honest philosophy of life and his genius for timing great decisions as candidate, politician and President.

"How America does need today to catch anew a vision and an understanding of Lincoln's simplicity and honesty and his resolution that 'this nation of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth.' And that's a real task in 1945," Mr. Hill concluded.

Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—Tommy, 8-year-old son of State Senator John J. Haluska, died on a hospital operating table last fall.

Last night Senator Haluska, himself a hospital superintendent, introduced a bill compelling surgeons to make a careful pre-operative physical checkup of all surgery patients, except in emergencies.

"My son had a birthmark on the back of his neck," Haluska said in a dramatic speech on the Senate floor. "I consulted an eminent surgeon, who advised me that it could be removed without the slightest danger."

"Of course I am, Tommy," I said.

Would Require Exam
"Well, if you are," said the boy, "you will never let them do this to me. If you let them do this, I am going to die."

"The doctor scoffed x x x, and took him by the hand and led him from the room. My son was saying the Lord's Prayer as he walked down the hallway. Twenty-two minutes later he was dead."

The Senator, who is superintendent of Miners' Hospital, Spangler, Pa., did not name the hospital or surgeon involved or give the medical explanation of Tommy's death.

His bill would require examinations of heart, blood vessels, lungs and urine except in emergencies, establishing a $1,000 fine or two years imprisonment or both for violation.

School Teachers' Leave
House measures would:

Require school boards to grant teachers as much as 10 full days of sick leave with pay each year and remove physical disability as grounds for dismissal for incompetency, Reps. Robert D. Fleming and George D. Stuart, (both R-Allegheny).

Place all city employees under Civil Service except elected officials and department heads, Anthony J. Petrosky and Charles J. Mills, (both D-Westmoreland).

Eliminate two-week waiting period before payment of Unemployment Compensation benefits start, Theodore Komorowski, (D-Luzerne).

Permit bowling alleys to operate after 2 p. m. on Sunday, John J. Baker, (D-Allegheny), and Thomas J. Heaghtington, (D-Allegheny).

Semi-Monthly Pay
Provide for at least semi-monthly pay periods for all employees except farm and domestic workers, Anthony J. Petrosky, (D-Westmoreland), and Frank J. Cullen, (D-Phila.).

New Senate proposals would:

Permit unions and other unincorporated associations to make contributions to political campaigns, John H. Dent, (D-Westmoreland), Carleton T. Woodring, (D-Northampton), and Wallace S. Gourley, (D-Washington).

Require courts to review the findings and penalties of State Liquor Control Board hearings on revocation of licenses, A. Evans Kephart, (R-Phila.).

TOO MANY MAGICIANS
Denver, Colo., (AP)—Amateur Magician William Hyer lugged his personal 40-pound sink to an auditorium for his performance after someone noticed he "used everything but the kitchen sink" in his act. He put it beneath a piano until time to make it disappear. It disappeared too soon, though, and police now are helping Hyer look for it.

THEY'RE BITING
Portland, Ore., (AP)—Hitchhiking soldiers have a new way to get rides. They take Portland or Seattle signs off highway posts and hold them out with bait dangling. The bait—a package of cigarettes from the post exchange.

Veteran Official At Doylestown Held

Doylestown, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—Harry S. Hobensack, who for 25 years was deputy Register of Wills of Bucks county, is held in $7,500 bail today on a charge of embezzlement.

The state charges him with converting to his own use about $10,000 in state funds while he held the $1,800 a year county post.

Hobensack, 49, is a former Republican ward leader.

TO HOLD CHURCH MEET
Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Methodist Bishop Fred P. Corson said today that an annual Methodist conference at Scranton April 11—reported prohibited by the Office of Defense Transportation—will be held as scheduled.

The bill would compel mine owners to stop dumping silt into streams.

There is "no known practical method by which the companies could comply with the requirement of the Brunner bill that all silt be captured and retained at the mines," Evans said.

The only way, he said, "would be to shut down and seal off the operations upon which one-third of the population of the commonwealth depends for sustenance."

The Brunner bill, sponsored by Rep. Charles H. Brunner, Jr. (R-Montgomery), is supported by Governor Martin and various groups campaigning for a cleanup of the silt-choked Schuylkill and other rivers. Operators successfully fought the bill in 1943, but it now has apparently stronger support. The fight over it may be one of the bitterest of the present legislative session.

Just Folks
LOST GENERATION
When the final wave has rolled,
We, who were the standers-by,
Will be those who were too old
To be ordered out to die.

When the world at last is free
And the fields are cleaned of hate,
We, the "stay-at-homes," will be Spared the humblest soldier's fate.

Pride of service was denied,
Fleet or squadron or platoon!
Boys for God and country died!
We were sent to earth too soon.

Ours the generation lost,
Barred to land and sea and sky;
Money's all we paid in cost.
We were thought too old to die.

Today's Talk
THE BOOKSELLER
That lovable personality and poet, Eugene Field, who was himself an inveterate writer and stimulator of worthwhile reading, as well as collector, had an incurable love for anyone who sold books. He once wrote that "the original man was three of number, one of him being the Bookseller, who established friendly relations between the other two of him, saying 'I will serve you both by inebriating both a demand and a supply.'"

Real "died in the wool" Booksellers are among the finest benefactors in this old world. They have a love for their vocation that cannot be adequately expressed in words. Their sorted and unsorted books, old, new, and ancient are their previous wards. Whether in bright new shining dress-garbs or shabby, worn and used raiment, the same love hovers about each.

Booksellers are among the most intelligent and human of all proprietors. They come in contact with every phase of life in the shape of human beings. They are students of human nature and of life. They become akin to every visitor to their shops or stalls because they are already akin to what that booklover may be seeking.

The really great Bookseller has so immersed himself into the volumes upon his shelves that to disturb his quiet nien by conversation might in a way seem just a little sacrilegious. Yet the moment he scents the fact that you the prospective owner, have already conferred honor upon one of his loves, he becomes aflame with interest and devotion, and thereupon you join his rare elect.

I have never felt that the Bookseller of a town has ever been given the high honor due him. We say "There goes the Minister, or the Doctor or the Corner Druggist." But who ever says "There goes the Bookseller?" Yet no more important individual walks the streets of any town or city. Though here in America we allow no acceptance of Royal rewards still I would like to see every deserving Bookseller especially knighted not by law but by popular choice.

The Bookseller with his rare and intriguing wares holds invisibly concealed more genuine hope more fascinating adventure and more spiritual triumphs about him than any area of floor space of which I have any knowledge.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject "Sounds and Echoes"

Out Of The Past
From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times
FIFTY YEARS AGO
Gettysburg Park Now: A telegram was received on Monday evening by Major E. B. Cope, engineer of the Battlefield Commission, from Col. Nicholson, stating that the President had signed the Sickles Gettysburg Park bill.

The Great Blizzard: From Thursday night the 7th to Monday (February 11th) at 11 o'clock, Gettysburg was cut off from all connections by rail with outside points. The snow fall on Thursday was considerable, but the blizzard of that night and Friday closed the roads to all travel.

Thursday's storm almost equalled the blizzard of 1888 in Philadelphia and New York, and greatly exceeded it here. It was accompanied by a keen, cold wind and was the coldest 8th of February ever experienced. The nearest to it was exactly twenty years ago.

The birthplace of the storm was southern Texas. The gale swept the falling snow into people's faces and down their necks. It pelted them so they could hardly see and not content with that, it swept up the snow after it collected upon the pavement and whirled it around like mad.

The snow grew deeper and deeper and walking grew very difficult. Huge drifts formed on the sidewalks and people had to wade through them up to their knees.

All the state is snow-bound. All the railroad lines were closed, almost entirely. All trains on the Gettysburg and Harrisburg road were annulled, owing to the impassable snow drifts, and a number of train men who remained with the obstructed cars were badly frost bitten.

Incidents of Blizzard: A mammoth snow plow, propelled by three locomotives, came down the Western Maryland RR from Highfield on Monday morning, clearing the track as it went.

The "cold snap" severely tried the water pipes in town, and gave the plumbers plenty to do.

Friday was one of the wildest days ever witnessed in this region. The streets of the town were occupied by the storm, the business places, like stores, banks and offices, were deserted. Physicians, and others who were compelled to face the hurricane, speak of it as an experience which they do not wish to be compelled to repeat.

On Friday morning the Reading started its 7:05 train for Harrisburg. On it was the lecturer of the previous evening, Hon. Henry Watterson, who was on his way to Chicago for the delivery last evening of his lecture on Abraham Lincoln. The track became impassable about four miles from town.

Mr. Watterson and others found comfortable entertainment at Mr. Dayhoff's farm where they remained throughout Saturday and until Sunday afternoon when the train was brought back to town.

During Saturday, Sunday and Monday, gangs of shovellers were employed to open up the streets several of which were impassable.

Most of the roads leading to town were closed to travel and Monday was devoted by the adjacent farmers to "breaking" them. Some of them were covered fence-high with a solid bank of snow and for long distances.

Marriages: Bushey-Bream—Feb. 7, at the bride's home by Rev. W. G. Shifer. Charles E. Bushey of Lattimore township to Miss Linnie C. Bream, of York Springs.

Shultz-Stover—Feb. 7 at Hilltown by Rev. O. P. Harnish. Adam Shultz to Miss Sarah Stover, both of Franklin township.

Local Miscellany: Mr. Watterson's lecture drew a crowded house notwithstanding the extraordinarily inclement weather. He delivered a lecture on "Abraham and Morals."

At the February meeting of the directors of the pool a cut of ten per cent was made in the salaries of all the officers, except the clerk.

Miss Nancy King has resigned as postmistress at Hunterstown.

Nevin Raffensperger, the foreman at the power house, fell on the ice Tuesday morning, and broke his left leg. Dr. Henry Stewart is the attending physician.

The C. A. Band will hold a festival in the Crawford building on Feb. 20, 21, 22 and 23.

Personal Mention: Rev. Dr. Baugher is off on a three weeks' vacation prescribed by his physician.

The Rev. W. L. Seabrook will supply the pulpit of the Rev. W. E. Stahler, in Lebanon, during the latter's absence in Europe.

Edward Christman has secured a position in the jewelry store of Boettlinger & Walters, Baltimore.

An Awful Calamity at Sea: One night last week the North German Lloyd steamship Elbe, from Bremen to New York, was run into in the English channel by the British steamer Clathre and so injured that it sank in a few minutes. Three hundred and fifty-four persons were aboard, of whom twenty were saved. Of the saved, fifteen were of the crew, and but five were passengers.

BELIEF GAINING THAT REDS WILL TURN ON JAPS
By JACK BELL
Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—The belief gained headway in Congress today that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill may have reached an agreement with Premier Stalin for eventual Russian participation in the war with Japan.

This belief was based partly on the announcement that a "very close working partnership" had been established between the American, British and Russian general staffs at the "big three" conference in Crimea. There the Allied leaders underwrote terms of a "Crimean charter" for cooperative action on war and peace.

April 25—When first-rank diplomats of the United Nations will meet in San Francisco to begin the formation of a world security organization—is the final date upon which either Russia or Japan can, by giving one year's notice, denounce their non-aggression treaty.

Believes Russia Will Fight Japs
If the treaty is not denounced by then, it runs for another five years. Thus Russia's position in regard to future hostilities with the Japanese may become clearer at the time of the diplomats' meeting.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee thought strongly that Stalin may have told Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt that he will join in the fight against Japan.

"Of course," Connally told reporters, "I have no information on that. But I believe in my heart that Russia is going to get into the war with Japan."

Connally was one of those who greeted yesterday's announcement of the nine-point results of the Crimean meeting with acclaim. These results seemed, temporarily at least, to satisfy most of the divergent congressional viewpoints on foreign policy.

And from outside the halls of Congress came an endorsement from former president Herbert Hoover who called the agreement a "strong foundation on which to rebuild the world."

Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis.) a Foreign Relations committee member critical of most administration actions in the international field, said the Crimean charter "was pretty general" in its terms and observed that the proof of the pudding will be in the eating thereof.

Atlantic Charter
But Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said the announcement reaffirmed basic principles of justice and "undertakes for the first time to implement these principles by direct action."

He called "greatly encouraging" the announced plan for a three-power control commission (France may join later) to occupy Germany and force her disarmament.

Senator Hill (D-Ark.) one of those who have plugged for immediate formation of a United Nations council to settle European political questions, told a reporter he thought that the big three had "moved forward just as fast as anyone could expect them to on this front."

The announcement that the big three had been able to resolve a dispute over voting methods in the proposed world security council left legislators awaiting disclosure of this important point.

The pledge for joint assistance to peoples of European states by Axis satellites, in setting up a government of their choice, was hailed generally as reaffirming the Atlantic Charter principles.

CULTURE AND CARE OF LILACS
The old-fashioned lilac remains one of the true peers among fragrant, flowering shrubs. Along with some of the newer hybrid strains it offers an ideal contribution to the home grounds, a welcome source of early spring color. But despite the fact that lilacs have been widely grown for decades in this country, several common problems arise to depreciate the beauty of their fine foliage and flowers.

Almost invariably when a vigorous specimen is seen in full development of its potential worth, the grower will be found following in principle a program of six main points:

1. Choose a site in full sunshine where the shrub does not have to compete with roots of nearby shade trees.
2. Give preference to a deeply mellow loam well balanced with organic matter and fertility.
3. Keep the shrub thrifty, if soil fertility is lacking, by annual feeding of manure and commercial fertilizer.
4. Prevent two common forms of blight also mildew—the three most troublesome diseases of the lilac.
5. Watch carefully for San Jose and other scale infestations and combat them in late winter.
6. Keep faded blossoms removed during the blooming season, also remove suckers whenever they appear.

Planting Lilacs
Lilac should be planted in late fall, preferably late October. However early March planting is safe if the roots are well wrapped and kept moist before planting and protected from exposure to wind and sun during planting operations.

Lilacs seldom thrive where soils are shallow and hard. If the chosen site is not deeply mellow improve it to a depth of 14 to 20 inches by spading under plenty of well composted and finely pulverized manure along the rich loam obtained from an old fence row or other fertile site. Some complete fertilizer may be worked into the top 6 inches of soil in advance of planting.

Two forms of blight attack this shrub both yielding to spring combat with Bordeaux mixture. Make the first application just as the leaves begin to open, repeat as soon as most of the leaves are open. Inasmuch as one form of lilac blight is common to rhododendrons do not plant these two shrubs nearer than 50 to 70 feet or more to each other.

Scales can be exterminated by a dormant application of lime-sulphur in late winter before growth starts diluted at the rate of 1 part concentrate with 7 parts water. Inspect lilacs at once for scale and spray within the next three weeks if they are present. Choose a mild spray for this work. One of the milder oil sprays will kill scales, but the lime-sulphur aids in reducing both blights and mildew.

If mildew has been troublesome the previous year dust lilacs with fine sulphur or spray with Bordeaux mixture in advance of the season when the disease usually appears. Gather and burn all lilac leaves before winter.

Do not permit faded blooms to develop seed pods, as this exhausts the shrub's vitality. For the same reason all sucker growths should be kept pruned away.

SERVICE HONORS LINCOLN: MARTIN
Pittsburgh, Feb. 13 (AP)—Two governors—Edward Martin of Pennsylvania and Harry F. Kelly of Michigan—agreed at a Lincoln Day dinner here last night that no greater honor can be paid Lincoln than by laying plans—domestic and foreign—"to preserve the nation he so nobly served."

Assailing the administration "for a sugar-coated censorship policy" in the guise of military expediency, Gov. Martin said:

"Since Pearl Harbor every reverse has been sugar-coated, when not suppressed; every disaster glossed over, every hardship minimized and every agonizing mistake and false start whitewashed."

The Pennsylvania chief executive then added that the people of this country owe to men of both parties in Congress a debt of everlasting gratitude because most of the facts from behind the scenes have been forced out by the pressure of Congress upon the White House.

Gov. Kelly told the Republicans attending the dinner that an international peace organization 'backed by force is necessary to prevent another war.'

Seeking Changes In Vets' Insurance
Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Servicemen have complained in many letters to veterans organizations about what they consider serious defects in the insurance the government gives them.

They complain because the National Service Life Insurance issued by the government in this war, does:

1. Not permit a beneficiary to be paid off in a lump sum. The payment is in monthly installments.
2. Not protect a serviceman for total permanent disability suffered in service if he's totally and permanently disabled he receives a pension but no insurance.

Today's Talk
 That lovable personality and poet, Eugene Field, who was himself an invertebrate writer and stimulator of worthwhile reading, as well as collector, had an incurable love for anyone who sold books. He once wrote that "the original man was three of number, one of him being the Bookseller, who established friendly relations between the other two of him, saying: 'I will serve you both by meeting both a demand and a supply.'"
 Real "dyed in the wool" Booksellers are among the finest benefactors in this old world. They have a love for their vocation that cannot be adequately expressed in words. Their sorted and unsorted books, old, new, and ancient, are their previous wards. Whether in bright new shining dress-garbs, or shabby, worn and used raiment, the same love hovers about each.
 Booksellers are among the most intelligent and human of all proprietors. They come in contact with every phase of life in the shape of human beings. They are students of human nature and of life. They become akin to every visitor to their shops, or stalls because they are already akin to what that booklover may be seeking.
 The really great Bookseller has so immersed himself into the volumes upon his shelves that to disturb his quiet mien by conversation might in a way seem just a little sacrilegious. Yet the moment he scents the fact that you, the prospective owner, have already conferred honor upon one of his loves, he becomes aflame with interest and devotion, and thereupon you join his rare elect.
 I have never felt that the Bookseller of a town has ever been given the high honor due him. We say: "There goes the Minister, or the Doctor, or the Corner Druggist." But who ever says: "There goes the Bookseller?" Yet no more important individual walks the streets of any town or city! Though here in America we allow no acceptance of Royal rewards, still I would like to see every deserving Bookseller especially knighted, not by law but by popular choice!
 The Bookseller, with his rare and intriguing wares, holds invisibly concealed more genuine hope, more fascinating adventure, and more spiritual triumphs about him than any area of floor space of which I have any knowledge.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Sounds and Echoes"

Out Of The Past
 From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times
 FIFTY YEARS AGO

Gettysburg Park Now: A telegram was received on Monday evening by Major E. B. Cope, engineer of the Battlefield Commission, from Col. Nicholson, stating that the President had signed the Sickles Gettysburg Park bill.

The Great Blizzard: From Thursday night the 7th to Monday (February 11th) at 11 o'clock, Gettysburg was cut off from all connections by rail with outside points.

The snow fall on Thursday was considerable, but the blizzard of that night and Friday closed the roads to all travel.

Thursday's storm almost equalled the blizzard of 1888 in Philadelphia and New York, and greatly exceeded it here. It was accompanied by a keen, cold wind and was the coldest 8th of February ever experienced. The nearest to it was exactly twenty years ago.

The birthplace of the storm was southern Texas. . . . The gale swept the falling snow into people's faces and down their necks. It pelted them so they could hardly see and not content with that, it swept up the snow after it collected upon the pavement and whirled it around like mad.

The snow grew deeper and deeper and walking grew very difficult. Huge drifts formed on the sidewalks and people had to wade through them up to their knees.

All the state is snow-bound. All the railroad lines were closed, almost entirely. . . . All trains on the Gettysburg and Harrisburg road were annulled, owing to the impassable snow drifts, and a number of train men who remained with the obstructed cars were badly frost bitten.

Incidents of Blizzard: A mammoth snow plow, propelled by three locomotives, came down the Western Maryland RR from Highfield on Monday morning, clearing the track as it went.

The "cold snap" severely tried the water pipes in town, and gave the plumbers plenty to do.

Friday was one of the wildest days ever witnessed in this region. The streets of the town were occupied by the storm; the business places, like stores, banks and offices, were deserted. Physicians, and others who were compelled to face the hurricane, speak of it as an experience which they do not wish to be compelled to repeat.

On Friday morning, the Reading started its 7:05 train for Harrisburg. On it was the lecturer of the previous evening, Hon. Henry Watterson, who was on his way to Chicago for the delivery last evening of his lecture on Abraham Lincoln, specially prepared for the occasion.

The track became impassable about four miles from town. . . . Mr. Watterson and others found comfortable entertainment at Mr. Dayhoff's farm where they remained throughout Saturday and until Sunday afternoon when the train was brought back to town.

During Saturday, Sunday and Monday, gangs of shovellers were employed to open up the streets, several of which were impassable.

Most of the roads leading to town were closed to travel and Monday was devoted by the adjacent farmers to "breaking" them. Some of them were covered fence-high with a solid bank of snow and for long distances.

Marriages: Bushey—Bream—Feb. 7, at the bride's home, by Rev. W. G. Slifer, Charles E. Bushey, of Latimore township, to Miss Linnie C. Bream, of York Springs.

Shultz—Stover—Feb. 7, at Hilltown, by Rev. O. P. Harnish, Adam Shultz to Miss Sarah Stover, both of Franklin township.

Local Miscellany: Mr. Watterson's lecture drew a crowded house, notwithstanding the extraordinarily inclement weather. He delivered a lecture on "Money and Morals."

At the February meeting of the directors of the poor a cut of ten per cent was made in the salaries of all the officers, except the clerk.

Miss Nancy King has resigned as postmistress at Hunterstown.

Nevin Raffensperger, the foreman at the power house, fell on the ice Tuesday morning, and broke his left leg. Dr. Henry Stewart is the attending physician.

The G. A. Band will hold a festival in the Crawford building on Feb. 20, 21, 22 and 23.

Personal Mention: Rev. Dr. Baugher is off on a three weeks' vacation prescribed by his physician.

The Rev. W. L. Seabrook will supply the pulpit of the Rev. W. E. Stahler, in Lebanon, during the latter's absence in Europe.

Edward Chritzman has secured a position in the jewelry store of Boettinger & Walters, Baltimore.

An Awful Calamity at Sea: One night last week the North German Lloyd steamship Elbe, from Bremen to New York, was run into in the English channel by the British steamer Cralthe, and so injured that it sank in a few minutes. Three hundred and fifty-four persons were aboard, of whom twenty were saved. Of the saved, fifteen were of the crew, and but five were passengers.

By JACK BELL
 Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—The belief gained headway in Congress today that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill may have reached an agreement with Premier Stalin for eventual Russian participation in the war with Japan.

This belief was based partly on the announcement that a "very close working partnership" had been established between the American, British and Russian general staffs at the "big three" conference in Crimea. There the Allied leaders underwrote terms of a "Crimean charter" for cooperative action on war and peace.

April 25—When first-rank diplomats of the United Nations will meet in San Francisco to begin the formation of a world security organization—is the final date upon which either Russia or Japan can, by giving one year's notice, denounce their non-aggression treaty.

Believes Russia Will Fight Japs
 If the treaty is not denounced by then, it runs for another five years. Thus Russia's position in regard to future hostilities with the Japanese may become clearer at the time of the diplomats' meeting.

Inasmuch as one form of lilac blight is common to rhododendrons, do not plant these two shrubs nearer than 50 to 70 feet or more to each other.

Scales can be exterminated by a dormant application of lime-sulphur in late winter before growth starts, diluted at the rate of 1 part concentrate with 7 parts water. Inspect lilacs at once for scale and spray within the next three weeks if they are present. Choose a mild spray for this work. One of the miscible oil sprays will kill scales, but the lime-sulphur aids in reducing both blights and mildew.

If mildew has been troublesome the previous year, dust lilacs with fine sulphur or spray with Bordeaux mixture in advance of the season when the disease usually appears. Gather and burn all "lilac leaves before winter."

Do not permit faded blooms to develop seed pods, as this exhausts the shrub's vitality. For the same reason all sucker growths should be kept pruned away.

Weedsville, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—Sportsmen, cutting browse for deer in Elk and Cameron counties, report that between 12 and 18 elk are all that remain of the herd of about 30 that was stocked in this section 25 years ago.

 The old-fashioned lilac remains one of the true peers among fragrant, flowering shrubs. Along with some of the newer hybrid strains it offers an ideal contribution to the home grounds, a welcome source of early spring color. But despite the fact that lilacs have been widely grown for decades in this country, several common problems arise to depreciate the beauty of their fine foliage and flowers.

Almost invariably when a vigorous specimen is seen in full development of its potential worth, the grower will be found following in principle a program of six main points:

1. Choose a site in full sunshine where the shrub does not have to compete with roots of nearby shade trees.

2. Give preference to a deeply mellow loam well balanced with organic matter and fertility.

3. Keep the shrub thrifty, if soil fertility is lacking, by annual feeding of manure and commercial fertilizer.

4. Prevent two common forms of blight, also mildew—the three most troublesome diseases of the lilac.

5. Watch carefully for San Jose and other scale infestations and combat them in late winter.

6. Keep faded blossoms removed during the blooming season, also remove suckers whenever they appear.

Planting Lilacs
 Lilacs should be planted in late fall, preferably late October. However, early March planting is safe if the roots are well burlapped and kept moist before planting and protected from exposure to wind and sun during planting operations.

Lilacs seldom thrive where soils are shallow and hard. If the chosen site is not deeply mellow, improve it to a depth of 14 to 20 inches by spading under plenty of well composted and finely pulverized manure along the rich loam obtained from an old fence row or other fertile site. Some complete fertilizer may be worked into the top 6 inches of soil in advance of planting.

Two forms of blight attack this shrub, both yielding to spring combat with Bordeaux mixture. Make the first application just as the leaves begin to open; repeat as soon as most of the leaves are open. Inasmuch as one form of lilac blight is common to rhododendrons, do not plant these two shrubs nearer than 50 to 70 feet or more to each other.

 York Springs—Miss Joan Starry, who had spent some time in Philadelphia, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis, near town, have announced the birth of a son at the Hanover hospital.

J. W. Hoopert is recovering from a back injury sustained recently in a fall.

Mrs. Stewart Grove has been chosen by the local Mademoiselle club to represent it on the advisory council of the Adams County Free Library association.

Urge Housewives To Purchase Apples
 Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—Pennsylvania housewives were urged recently to buy apples now and keep them in storage until needed. Miles Horst, secretary of agriculture, said the apples would be safe in a cool spot in the cellar, or an unheated room.

Meanwhile the agricultural department reported that beeswax production totaled 141,000 pounds in 1944 compared with 138,000 lbs. the previous year, while honey fell off from 6,256,000 pounds in 1943 to 6,112,000 pounds last year because of adverse weather.

Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—St Valentine's day gifts "straight from the heart" were urged today by Governor Martin who endorsed a plan for Pennsylvania women to donate blood at the Red Cross blood bank on Feb. 14.

Nazis Blast Big 3 Pact

London, Feb. 13 (AP)—Nazi radios poured out a strong blast today to the German people against the Big Three agreement, terming it "the hate-program of Yalta" and "a crime on mankind and humanity."

The first home consumption reaction to the Crimean plan—which Berlin blamed directly on "the Jew, the wandering Jew"—was withheld until long after most Germans had gone to work this morning. Once started, however, the DNB home service pulled out all stops.

"The words of the Yalta plan are spreading through Germany like an alarm" said a Nazi commentator. "Never—this is our sacred oath in this hour in which the enemy has dropped his mask and in which we Germans now see the devilish grimace of the Jew—never will this murder plan be practiced on our people."

The Germans ignored that part of the Crimean plan which declared "it is not our purpose to destroy the people of Germany." This was the version broadcast by Berlin.

"Germany should be smashed with brutal force, details of the statement announce. It will be split up, German industry will be robbed, so-called 'courts' will be set up to continue mass slaughter of German men, women and children. Those Germans who live to see the 'days of judgment' will be pressed into slave labor for the foreign tyrants x x x."

Virtually every Allied radio capable of reaching the Reich had beamed the text of the conference communiqué to German listeners last night.

wide spreading limbs afforded some protection from snowfall. The bags were slit at corn level to enable deer to feed on the contents.

For squirrels the sportsmen took the same precaution and care. They trimmed the tops of bushes above the deep snow, pointed the sprout or trunk of the bush and then pressed the corn (on cob) over the point, thus securing it so that squirrels might feed from it. The corn could not fall or be buried in the snow.

The sportsmen who have made several feeding expeditions asked that their names not be divulged. One of them said:

"It's too bad that more hunters and other sportsmen are not helping to feed the stricken game who are having difficulty finding sufficient food upon which to subsist. Unless more food is distributed in the county I'm afraid we are going to lose a lot of game."

On one of the feeding trips the hunters found a squirrel den tree. It was large and hollow. The ground was well trampled by what appeared to the sportsmen like a "lot of squirrels." About five feet from the ground was a hole in the tree, some five or six inches in diameter. Into the hole the sportsmen dropped more than a peck of corn.

The OPA has announced that "several minor items of insignificant importance to the cost of living" have been exempt from price control. The list includes:

Dog and cat beds, cushions, mattresses; sleigh bells; ship bells; bird cages; poker chip racks; aluminum horseshoes; safety air vents for wine fermentation; hand fans; decorative place cards; artificial grass and a few other items.

The OPA added that there is no likelihood that the "withdrawal of price control on these items will result in any dislocation of prices, materials or manpower."

"Crimea Charter" Is Hailed In London

London, Feb. 13 (AP)—The new "Crimea Charter" was welcomed in Britain today as a pledge of full participation by the United States in the re-shaping of Europe's political and geographical future.

The feeling in London was that the United States hardly could have been more firmly committed to a part in the post-war reformation of Europe than by the clauses pledging joint assistance to any liberated or former Axis satellite nation in forming "interim governmental authorities."

Part of this joint assistance will be to determine that these interim governments represent all democratic elements. America must necessarily dip her hand deeply into Europe's cauldron to back this pledge.

Black Hawks Back In National Race

(By The Associated Press)

The return of Chicago Black Hawks to a place of contention in the standings has all the National Hockey league talking.

Several weeks ago, the Hawks had been ignominiously consigned to the cellar and prognosticators turned to the task of separating New York Rangers and Boston Bruins for the fourth play-off slot.

But when Chicago set Toronto Maple Leafs back on their heels twice last week-end, everything changed.

When the revamped Hawks tangle tonight with Bruins at Boston they'll be aiming at a long stride on the road they hope will lead them to fourth place.

Asks Tightening Of School Aid

Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—Tightening of a $3,000,000 appropriation for distressed or financially handicapped school districts in Pennsylvania was recommended to the General Assembly today by its special school commission.

The commission urged that school districts be required to levy a school tax of 45 mills on real estate and a $5 per capita tax before qualifying for special aid.

The report said that one district classified as "distressed" levied a school tax of only 10 mills while 38 others levied 25 mills or less and many of them "either failed to levy any per capita tax or imposed a rate of but one or two dollars."

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—After seven days in the cast at the behest of his Jersey City draft board for an army physical re-examination, Frank Sinatra is expected to resume his broadcast schedule on CBS tomorrow night at 9 from Hollywood. He missed last week's program because of the trip.

McSpaden, Nelson In Championship Race

New Orleans, Feb. 13 (AP)—Harold (Jug) McSpaden tries today for the championship he "blew" yesterday in the $5,000 New Orleans open golf tournament—and his opponent is the game's leading performer, Byron Nelson of Toledo, O.

Playing under the worst possible weather conditions, the Sanford, Me., "hard luck" specialist couldn't buck the stiff wind, occasional showers and heavy course and turned in his first bad round of the tournament. His final 18 holes cost him 4 over par 38-38-76.

Nelson, trailing his "Gold Dust Twin" by five strokes at the end of three rounds, wound up with a 37-34-71, one under par, to make his score 284.

ANSWERS PROTEST

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Replying to 1,600 religious leaders who last week-end addressed a declaration to heads of the three major Allied nations which was critical of Vatican political policies, Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York, said Sunday that the group had done "a disservice to their country and violated the Golden Rule."

ALBRIGHT FIVE, ONCE BEATEN, TO PLAY HERE

Another tough assignment is in store for the Gettysburg college basketball team Wednesday evening when the powerful Albright college dribblers meet the 'Bullets on the local floor.

The Lions will come here as big favorites to down the 'Bullets. Albright has lost but one game this season. On Saturday night the Lions faced Ursinus 57-37.

Last year Albright whipped the 'Bullets 60-35 at Reading and then came to Gettysburg to receive a surprising 49-45 setback. Coach Bream and his lads are hoping to again give the visitors a surprise.

The Lion starting lineup will probably be composed of Landis, and Wagner, forwards; Beam, center, with Saylor and Ervin at guards.

No change is anticipated in the Bullet lineup which will be composed of Andrews and Moore, forwards; Shepherd, center and March and Martin, guards.

As a preliminary game the Lutheran Theological seminary cagers will meet the Westminster seminary dribblers at 7 o'clock.

CAGERS CARDED FOR BIG TILTS; ACES IN TEST

Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—Lower Merion's long reign as district one champion may end tonight as Coach Bill Anderson takes his Ardmore five to Haverford for one of the outstanding games on tonight's Pennsylvania scholastic basketball schedule.

Beaten by Merchantville, N. J., in its opening game, by Allentown during the Christmas holidays, and by Haverford in the first clash of these suburban league rivals, Lower Merion will drop out of the picture if it loses a second time to the already unbeaten Hawks.

On other fronts Steelton, seeking its first state title since 1928, can clinch a tie for the Central Penn conference crown by winning from Lancaster on the home floor, while Johnstown, triumphant in 27 straight league starts, will be assured of a deadlock for the tri-county crown if Ferndale can be vanquished.

Foster Township, winner over Hazle Township in a recent Anthracite League first half playoff, encounters the same rivals in a crucial second half tilt, with Johnny Shearson, star forward on the sidelines with an injured foot.

The red-hot Lackawanna Valley League comes up with another important game as Scranton Central, tied with Dickson City for first place, invades Dunmore. Meanwhile Dickson goes to Olyphant; Carbonade to Scranton Tech; Throop to West Scranton; and Taylor to Old Forge.

Seek 13th Win

Plymouth, leading the Wyoming Valley loop, seeks its 13th straight at Gar; Mahanoy City, unbeaten leader of the Black Diamond loop, will journey to Mauch Chunk to try for 13 in a row; Shamokin, winner of 15 consecutive games, will be at home to meet Mt. Carmel; while Sayre, seeking district four honors, goes to Waverly for a return game.

Other important tilts find Meadville at Sharpville in a game that will have a bearing on district ten honors; Erie Tech, seeking its first city championship, clashing with strong Vincent; Kane trying for revenge against St. Mary's; Dalton playing host to Clarks Summit in a district two class; and Coatesville at Bethlehem.

Vince Hansen New Court High Scorer

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Vince Hansen, an "unknown" from Washington state in the Pacific northwest, catapulted into first place in Basketball's National Collegiate individual high scoring race last week. Hansen ran wild against the Washington Huskies to boost his season total to 453 points on 185 field goals and 83 free throws in 28 games. He replaced Dick Wilkins of Oregon who topped the parade the previous week with 412.

Another northwest performer, Jack Perrault of Eastern Washington, climbed into second place with 421 points while Bill Henry, of Rice's newly crowned Southwest conference champions, tossed in 52 points during the week to hit 392.

George Mikan of DePaul fell to four with 375.

BABE SMOTHERS

Pittsburgh, Feb. 13 (AP)—The coroner reported six-month-old Patricia Louise Bechtel smothered to death under her bed clothing at her Braddock home yesterday.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLETON, JR.
New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Since the race tracks closed down, Jockey Herb Claggett has been driving a laundry truck around Miami. . . . If he takes as long to get back as most laundrymen do these days, he'd better not try riding again. . . . Frank Filchock, who outdid Sammy Baugh as the Washington Redskins' passer last fall, is planning an operation on his nose in hope of getting back into the Navy. Frank's break has been busted nine times. . . . Humberto Zavala, Mexican lightweight who fights Danny Bartfield in the Garden Friday, is the inventor of a new, extra-fast type of punching bag which is a big hit with the boys around Stillman's gym. . . . It's shaped something like a "Mae West" life belt—which isn't much like the fighters Zavala will be called upon to punch.

MANPOWER SHORTAGE

Pat Keith, sports editor of the Brainerd, Minn., Daily Dispatch, won the lightweight title in his district Golden Gloves tournament and qualified for this week's northwest meet in Minneapolis. . . . He knocked out Pete Kocka, of Brainerd (a critic, no doubt), in the first round of his semi-final then won his final bout by a decision. . . . Pat complains that the lack of manpower keeps him busy, but we never heard of a scribe going that far just to get a story.

LAST-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Latest name mentioned for the National Hockey League presidency, which is as hard to fill as a "Judge Landis" baseball job, is Lt. Gen. P. J. Montague, chief of state in Canadian military headquarters at London. . . . Gunder (I wonder?) Heeg and his fiancée, Dorothy Norther, plan to be married Easter eve—providing Gunder gets here in time. . . . The University of Virginia is planning athletic facilities for 5,000 students at a cost of more than $10,000,000 after the war. . . . Newest rave in local baseball circles is 16-year-old Adolph Schayes, who made his big-time debut for N.Y.U. against Notre Dame. Some coaches say he's already better than Harry Boykoff.

SERVICE DEPT.

Dick Riffe, former Pittsburgh Steeler halfback, is an army corporal who can wear stars for eight major engagements. That doesn't include the stars he saw during major engagements with the Bears, Packers, etc. . . . According to word from a navy blimp squadron at Elizabeth City, N. C., cage followers who have seen the best agree that Gene Buerle, Newark, N. J., high school product, will be another Scotty Hamilton, of West Virginia, and Bainbridge navy fame.

SPORT SHORTS

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Lt. Commander W. Newbold Ell's foxhound, Lena, who startled the canine world last year by giving birth to 23 puppies, is "expecting" again.

Los Angeles, Feb. 13 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, of Philadelphia, recognized by New York as the lightweight champion, engages tonight in his first fight in six months. Bobcat Bob takes on Cecil Hudson, of Los Angeles, in a 10-rounder at 145 pounds.

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Dominic Dallessandro, Chicago Cubs outfielder, passed his pre-induction physical examination yesterday and may be inducted in March.

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Jimmy Poxx, former Philadelphia Athletics home-run great who signed with the Phillies Saturday, may get the first-base assignment of army inductee Tony Lupien.

Outfielder Jimmy Waddell might also get the berth, leaving the double X to play third and some catching.

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Elderly Joseph Oakes, Sr., has just seen a basketball game—in violation of a doctor's strict orders.

From 1915 to 1938, there was rarely a season when one of his four sons was not a star on St. Joseph's high or St. Joseph's college team, and Oakes became so ardent a fan that the doctor told him to shun the game as too exciting.

But he was able to watch a St. Joseph's high-Camden lower regional high game—his first in seven years—with complete calm and absolute neutrality. St. Joseph's is coached by one of his sons, Joe, Jr.—and Camden by another, Johnny.

FAIRFIELD HIGH DIVIDES TILTS

The Fairfield high school basketball teams divided a pair of games with the Biglerville high jayvees Monday evening at Fairfield.

Coach Martin's boys lost their game 26-20 after getting off to a 9-2 lead in the first half. Biglerville gained a 12-11 lead at half time and held a slight advantage in the last half. Rice topped the scorers with a dozen points.

The Fairfield girls staged a brilliant last period rally to win 23-17. Going into the final round the Fairfield lassies were trailing 16-11. R. Musselman connected for 14 fallies for the winners.

WE WANT YOUR CHILDREN'S PICTURES

To Be Published in

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

A Tribute to Our Children

Pictures of the children of Gettysburg and Adams County are to be published in The Gettysburg Times as a special tribute to our young citizens. So, Mother and Dad, we will need your cooperation to help make this event colorful and inspiring.

Arrangements have been made with The Woltz Studios, nationally known children's photographers, to take the pictures for us at the time and place given below. All you have to do is bring your children as our guests. There is no charge or obligation. However, all children must be accompanied by one parent or other guardian.

You do not have to be a subscriber to The Times and you do not need to purchase photographs, although you may do so if you wish. Just bring your children down and have the picture taken. Later you will be shown proofs from which you select the pose you prefer having printed in The Times. The pictures will be published at a later date. It is as simple as that!

You can clip these pictures from The Times and thus obtain a memento of childhood which will become a treasured keepsake and memory record for both you and your children when they grow up. Fathers and other relatives in the Armed Forces will get a real thrill when they receive The Times containing pictures of the beloved little faces they know so well.

If your last name begins with any of the letters between "A" and "J" bring your child Friday, February 16. Those with last names beginning with letters from "K" to "S" should come Saturday, February 17, while those with last names beginning with the remaining letters of the alphabet should come Monday.

The above suggestion is not compulsory but your cooperation will be appreciated.

Below is the time and place to have your children's pictures taken without cost.

"Crimea Charter" Is Hailed In London

London, Feb. 13 (AP)—The new "Crimea Charter" was welcomed in Britain today as a pledge of full participation by the United States in the re-shaping of Europe's political and geographical future.

The feeling in London was that the United States hardly could have been more firmly committed to a part in the post-war reformation of Europe than by the clauses pledging joint assistance to any liberated or former Axis satellite nation in forming "interim governmental authorities."

Part of this joint assistance will be to determine that these interim governments represent all democratic elements. America must necessarily dip her hand deeply into Europe's cauldron to back this pledge.

Black Hawks Back In National Race

(By The Associated Press)

The return of Chicago Black Hawks to a place of contention in the standings has all the National Hockey league talking.

Several weeks ago, the Hawks had been ignominiously consigned to the cellar and prognosticators turned to the task of separating New York Rangers and Boston Bruins for the fourth play-off slot.

But when Chicago set Toronto Maple Leafs back on their heels twice last week-end, everything changed.

When the revamped Hawks tangle tonight with Bruins at Boston they'll be aiming at a long stride on the road they hope will lead them to fourth place.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—After seven days in the east at the behest of his Jersey City draft board for an army physical re-examination, Frank Sinatra is expected to resume his broadcast schedule on CBS tomorrow night at 9 from Hollywood. He missed last week's program because of the trip.

McSpaden, Nelson In Championship Race

New Orleans, Feb. 13 (AP)—Harold (Jug) McSpaden tries today for the championship he "blew" yesterday in the $5,000 New Orleans open golf tournament—and his opponent is the game's leading performer, Byron Nelson of Toledo, O.

Playing under the worst possible weather conditions, the Sanford, Me., "hard luck" specialist couldn't buck the stiff wind, occasional showers and heavy course and turned in his first bad round of the tournament. His final 18 holes cost him 4 over par 38-38—76.

Nelson, trailing his "Gold Dust Twin" by five strokes at the end of three rounds, wound up with a 37-34—71, one under par, to make his score 284.

Answers Protest

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Replying to 1,600 religious leaders who last week-end addressed a declaration to heads of the three major Allied nations which was critical of Vatican political policies, Archbishop Francis J. Spellman, of New York, said Sunday that the group had done "a disservice to their country and violated the Golden Rule."

ALBRIGHT FIVE, ONCE BEATEN, TO PLAY HERE

Another tough assignment is in store for the Gettysburg college basketball team Wednesday evening when the powerful Albright college dribblers meet the Bullets on the local floor.

The Lions will come here as big favorites to down the Bullets. Albright has lost but one game this season. On Saturday night the Lions laced Ursinus 57-37.

Last year Albright whipped the Bullets 60-35 at Reading and then came to Gettysburg to receive a surprising 49-45 setback. Coach Bream and his lads are hoping to again give the visitors a surprise.

The Lion starting lineup will probably be composed of Landis and Wagner, forwards; Beam, center, with Saylor and Ervin at guards.

No change is anticipated in the Bullet lineup which will be composed of Andrews and Moore, forwards; Shepherd, center and March and Martini, guards.

As a preliminary game the Lutheran Theological seminary cagers will meet the Westminster seminary dribblers at 7 o'clock.

CAGERS CARD FOR BIG TILTS; ACES IN TEST

Harrisburg, Feb. 13 (AP)—Lower Merion's long reign as district one champion may end tonight as Coach Bill Anderson takes his Ardmore five to Haverford for one of the outstanding games on tonight's Pennsylvania scholastic basketball schedule.

Beaten by Merchantville, N. J., in its opening game, by Allentown during the Christmas holidays, and by Haverford in the first clash of these suburban league rivals, Lower Merion will drop out of the picture if it loses a second time to the Fords.

On other fronts Steelton, seeking its first state title since 1928, can clinch a tie for the Central Penn conference crown by winning from Lancaster on the home floor, while Johnstown, triumphant in 27 straight league starts, will be assured of a deadlock for the tri-county crown if Ferndale can be vanquished.

Foster Township, winner over Hazle Township in a recent Anthracite League first half playoff, encounters the same rivals in a crucial second half tilt, with Johnny Shearson, star forward on the sidelines with an injured foot.

The red-hot Lackawanna Valley League comes up with another important game as Scranton Central, tied with Dickson City for first place, invades Dunmore. Meanwhile Dickson goes to Olyphant; Carbondale to Scranton Tech; Throop to West Scranton; and Taylor to Old Forge.

Plymouth, leading the Wyoming other Valley loop, seeks its 13th straight at Gar; Mahanoy City, unbeaten leader of the Black Diamond loop, will journey to Mauch Chunk to try for 12 in a row; Shamokin, winner of 15 consecutive games, will be at home to meet Mt. Carmel; while Sayre, seeking district four honors, goes to Waverly for a return game.

Other important tilts find Meadville at Sharpville in a game that will have a bearing on district ten honors; Erie Tech, seeking its first city championship, clashing with strong Vincent; Kane trying for revenge against St. Mary's; Dalton playing host to Clarks Summit in a district two class; and Coatesville at Bethlehem.

Vince Hansen New Court High Scorer

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Vince Hansen, an "unknown" from Washington State in the Pacific northwest, catapulted into first place in Basketball's National Collegiate individual high scoring race last week.

Hansen ran wild against the Washington Huskies to boost his season total to 453 points on 185 field goals and 83 free throws in 28 games. He replaced Dick Wilkins of Oregon who topped the parade the previous week with 412.

Another northwest performer, Jack Perrault of Eastern Washington, climbed into second place with 421 points while Bill Henry, of Rice's newly crowned Southwest conference champions, tossed in 32 points during the week to hit 392.

George Mikan of DePaul fell to four with 375.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Since the race tracks closed down, Jockey Herb Claggett has been driving a laundry truck around Miami. . . . If he takes as long to get back as most laundrymen do these days, he'd better not try riding again. . . . Frank Filchock, who outdid Sammy Baugh as the Washington Redskins' passer last fall, is planning an operation on his nose in hope of getting back into the Navy. Frank's beak has been busted nine times. . . . Humberto Zavala, Mexican lightweight who fights Danny Bartfield in the Garden Friday, is the inventor of a new, extra-fast type of punching bag which is a big hit with the boys around Stillman's gym. . . . It's shaped something like a "Mae West" life belt—which isn't much like the fighters Zavala will be called upon to punch.

Pat Keith, sports editor of the Brainerd, Minn., Daily Dispatch, won the lightweight title in his district Golden Gloves tournament and qualified for this week's northwest meet in Minneapolis. . . . He knocked out Pete Kocka, of Brainerd (a critic, no doubt), in the first round of his semi-final then won his final bout by a decision. . . . Pat complains that the lack of manpower keeps him busy, but we never heard of a scribe going that far just to get a story.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Latest name mentioned for the National Hockey League presidency, which is as hard to fill as Lt. Gen. P. J. Montague, chief of state in Canadian military headquarters at London. . . . Gunder (I wonder?) Haegg and his fiancée, Dorothy Norther, plan to be married Easter eve—providing Gunder gets here in time. . . . The University of Virginia is planning athletic facilities for 5,000 students at a cost of more than $10,000,000 after the war. . . . Newest rave in local baseball circles is 16-year-old Adolph Schayes, who made his big-time debut for N.Y.U. against Notre Dame. Some coaches say he's already better than Harry Boykoff.

SERVICE DEPT.

Dick Riffle, former Pittsburgh Steeler halfback, is an army corporal who can wear stars for eight major engagements. That doesn't include the stars he saw during major engagements with the Bears, Packers, etc. . . . According to word from a navy blimp squadron at Elizabeth City, N. C., cage followers who have seen the best agree that Gene Duclue, Newark, N. J., high school product, will be another Scotty Hamilton, of West Virginia, and Bainbridge navy fame.

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Lt. Commander W. Newbold Eli's foxhound, Lena, who startled the canine world last year by giving birth to 23 puppies, is "expecting" again.

Los Angeles, Feb. 13 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, of Philadelphia, recognized by New York as the lightweight champion, engages tonight in his first fight in six months. Bobcat Bob takes on Cecil Hudson, of Los Angeles, in a 10-rounder at 145 pounds.

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Dominic Dallessandro, Chicago Cubs outfielder, passed his pre-induction physical examination yesterday and may be inducted in March.

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Jimmy Foxx, former Philadelphia Athletics home-run great who signed with the Phillies Saturday, may get the first-base assignment of army inductee Tony Lupien.

Outfielder Jimmy Wasdell might also get the berth, leaving the double X to play third and some catching.

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—Elderly Joseph Oakes, Sr., has just seen a basketball game—in violation of a doctor's strict orders.

From 1915 to 1938, there was rarely a season when one of his four sons was not a star on a St. Joseph's high or St. Joseph's college team, and Oakes became so ardent a fan that the doctor told him to shun the game as too exciting.

But he was able to watch a St. Joseph's high-Camden lower regional high game—his first in seven years—with complete calm and absolute neutrality. St. Joseph's is coached by one of his sons, Joe, Jr.—and Camden by another, Johnny.

WE WANT YOUR CHILDREN'S PICTURES

To Be Published in

Pictures of the children of Gettysburg and Adams County are to be published in The Gettysburg Times as a special tribute to our young citizens. So, Mother and Dad, we will need your cooperation to help make this event colorful and inspiring.

Arrangements have been made with The Woltz Studios, nationally known children's photographers, to take the pictures for us at the time and place given below. All you have to do is bring your children as our guests. There is no charge or obligation. However, all children must be accompanied by one parent or other guardian.

You do not have to be a subscriber to The Times and you do not need to purchase photographs, although you may do so if you wish. Just bring your children down and have the picture taken. Later you will be shown proofs from which you select the pose you prefer having printed in The Times. The pictures will be published at a later date. It is as simple as that!
